Give in
What you think I'm feeling

Open your eye's up to
You're pulling me down in
Look through
Where you've seen so many

Into your water blue
Drowning
I feel my heart stop beating
Burning

My cancer won't stop eating
My cross I made for you

You wanted too much from all of me
I wanted too much from all of you
I wanted too much from everything I need

Won't you take it all away
I said, won't you take it all away

I don't think you'll make it
Before the door is closing
Don't think that you believe in Everything you see

I don't think you'll make it
I wanted all too much
You hear my world exploding

From everything
Won't you take it all away
Open your eye's up to
I said, won't you take it all away

Give in
What you think I'm feeling

I fall down below you
Floating

Right above you

I need way too much

From everything

Take it all away

Take it all away

Won't you take it all away

I said, won't you take it all away
