I was dead on the floor
When I first met you
Like a Junkie on his knees

I realize what you turned me into
A broken image of me

The freak that crawls in the heart of sin
It's easy if you try
You feel so dead

It's in your head
And it gets you off
And your throat is getting dry

Never before have you felt this way
And it turns you on, and it gets you off

I'm wide awake and it seems to me
I don't care if I'm in too deep
(I don't care if I ever sleep)
Far away I can hear them cry
And you don't care if I say "goodbye"
(I don't care if they say "goodbye")

Like a fly on the wall
You turn me in
A sickness that you breathe

And the water's getting deep
I realize what their looking right through
There's nothing to hide when the light goes dim

So even if you try
So far behind, your little mind
Your face is turning white
And it gets you off

Never before have you felt this way
And it turns you on and it gets you off

I don't care if I'm in too deep

I'm wide awake and it seems to me
(I don't care if I ever sleep)
And you don't care if I say "goodbye"
(I don't care if they say "goodbye")
Far away I can hear them cry
When I first met you

I was dead on the floor
A sickness that you breathe

I realize what you turned me into
And the water's getting deep
Freak that crawls in the heart of sin
So easy if you try
You wanna die
You think you're high
Your throat is getting dry
And it gets you off
Never before have you felt this way

And it turns you on and it gets you off

I'm wide awake and it seems to me
I don't care if I'm in too deep
Far away I can hear them cry
(I don't care if I ever sleep)
And you don't care if I say "goodbye"
(I don't care if they say "goodbye")
