you got the magic of a mermaid, you swim without drown
i need you now more then ever, my ship is going down the devil he stole my soul, to much idle time im crawling just like a snake, the devil he owns my mind
he's driving me straight to hell

I was wise when i was with you,i died with you a million deaths and everytime i was born again but the last time you took my breath
left me never to breath again, never to breath again

Give me life, give me hope,give me strength to hold on Give me life, give me hope,give me strength to hold on
I need one more day to rise above this jail
I need one more day to rise above this hell

The walls are wet and cold, inside this bottomless hole your fingernails slip on the slime,it's harder and harder to climb
we sinking deeper, deeper into hell.

Thoughts bleeds down my face, my brain wears a thorny crown
Look out johnny ace, the devil coming back to town,
He's gona give your guns to me,
He's gona give your guns to me
He's gona give your guns to me

Give me life, give me hope,give me strength to hold on
Give me life, give me hope,give me strength to hold on
I need one more day to rise above this jail
I need one more day to rise above this hell
