Last chance to make this right
This needs to end with us here

I'm just as fake
Just as fake as all of you
My spirit is willing
It's my flesh that's just so very weak
When we will end this
Tell me
When we will end this
Tell me and will they believe us
Last chance to make this right
This needs to end with us

If this is all they see
Then what's the point in saying
We believe in something we wont show

Our lives say just the opposite of everything we say
We believe in
And just how long will we stand for this hypocrisy
When we will end this
Tell me
When will we end this
Tell me and will they believe us

Last chance to make this right
This needs to end with us

If this is all they see
Then what's the point in saying
We believe in something we wont show

Don't make a mockery of her
Don't make a mockery of her
She's not your bride

Don't make a mockery of her
Don't make a mockery of her
Don't make a mockery of her
She's not your bride

Don't make a mockery of her
She's not your bride
She's not your bride

If this is all they see
Then what's the point in saying
We believe in something we wont live for
If this is all they see
Then what's the point in saying
We believe in something we wont live for

We tell a story
Our hearts are just as empty
If this is all they see
We got to start living it out
