She's searching for someone
To save her from this place
To rescue (rescue her)
From what she can't escape
There's not much hope left
She's thrown it all away
Been knocked down so much
She can't get up
She cries out in pain
Take me away further away
Outside of this
I'm falling apart looking for what's
Outside of this
Her make-up smeared around
As tears run down her face
The mask she had
Soon to be erased
She's broken and let down
With nowhere left to turn
Asking herself what's worth living for
She cries out again
Take me away further away
Outside of this
I'm falling apart looking for what's
Outside of this
The candle is burning out
The light flickers away
You reach out your hand to save her from this place
You reach out your hand... to save her from this place
Take me away further away
Outside of this
I'm falling apart looking for what's
Outside of this
