This sacred patch of ground, one hundred yards of earth
Three hundred feet to test our hearts and prove our worth
And every ounce of pride we've ever held inside
Will give us strength when we are face down in the dirt

So let the snow fall down; let it freeze this battleground Feel the chill, share the thrill; we're the clay that shapes this town

Chorus

So bring on the heroes; bring on the fight
Turn up the action; shine down the lights
Bring on the heroes; let's keep this dream alive
Bring on the heroes; these are the heroes of our lives

It's Packer pride!

Verse 2

We can bridge the great divide, carry on the flame With a heart so bold, green and gold runs through our veins
When the clock is running down, we make every second count
We pull as one with the force to move these chains

Where no one stands alone, a single wall of stone We'll take the heat, turn defeat into a victory of its own

Chorus

Bridge

Never going down, never going under Red zone coming, no time to wonder
Crowd is building up to a roaring thunder
It's a battle of wills on the frozen tundra

Chorus (x2)
