A new feeling grows inside me
Can't take away the black sky
I'm too afraid to use new colors
Wave the older man goodbye

I was drowning in the ocean
I couldn't keep my head up
No one ever helped me fighting
No one ever seemed to mind

Close your eyes don't be shy
There's no need to shut the light
Just try to leave it all behind
If you're ok I'll be fine

You know there's something for me
It just needs to be found

It hurts to know I'm crawling
Why do I feel so betrayed
Tell me when the sky stops falling
Will there be another day

Close your eyes don't be shy
There's no need to shut the light
Just try to leave it all behind
If you're ok I'll be fine

You know there's something for me
It just needs to be found
Needs to be found
Needs to be found

Close your eyes don't be shy
There's no need to shut the light
Just try to leave it all behind
If you're ok I'll be fine
