My time is running out
Where do I go
In a year or so
The walls are closing in But there's no place to find Where I can settle in

You keep on telling me you're better and you're beautiful
But all this time you just been talking with your mouthful
I'm sick to death of being stuck in where I'm running from

Have you heard the news today
I've been sent away
No more place for you
It has all been sayd
Or really had to say
I know it's wrong to feel the way I feel about you now
But I dont care anyway

You keep on telling me you're better and you're
But all this time you just been talking with your
mouthful
from

But all this time you just been talking with your
mouthful
I'm sick to death of being stuck to what I'm running
from

Someone blew our house away
Million pieces in the sky Heaven's black for miles and miles

Take your chance and run away
Don't be scared it's not too late Will be brave and will go on, and on and on and on and on

Well it doesn't really matter
I've been trying to tell myself
Just look hard behind the numbers
And were 'bout to find ourselves.

Well it doesn't really matter
I've been trying to tell myself
Just look hard behind the numbers
And were 'bout to find ourselves

You keep on telling me you're better and you're
But all this time you just been talking with your
mouthful
I'm sick to death of being stuck in where I'm running
from

I'm sick to death of being just like anyone

Just like anyone (3x)

You keep on telling me I'm just like anyone (4x)
