It was a late dream
The world you made it steam
They put your heart on the stand
And every passerby watched your firefly
With nowhere to land

You rocked your words right
You let them sleep tight
Until love showed it's face
There was a light wind
You left your heart in him
It held your name back from grace

And you rock like you know
That the world needs a show
But you want somebody to love

Runaway, runaway 'cause it fits the fall
And we all know you didn't mean it at all
Runaway, runaway let your words recall
You're not alone, you wouldn't leave us at all

You watched the close calls, forshadowed broken laws
You put yourself on a stand
You let your guilt ride and found a place to hide
From love's high demand
You found the right pose
The kind a stranger knows
Your heart was up in the air
There was a strong wind, it brought to back to him
But you were too far to care

Now you're out for the sake of a heart you can brake
Because you want somebody to love

Runaway, runaway cause it fits the fall
And we all know you didn't mean it at all
Runaway, runaway let your words recall
You're not alone, you wouldn't leave us at all

When it feels right
You're free to leave

When it feels like
Theres room to breathe
And it feels like you're letting go
You're letting go

Runaway, runaway cause it fits the fall
And we all know you didn't mean it at all
Runaway, runaway let your words recall
You're not alone, you wouldn't leave us at all
