If I could be just what you need
Maybe we'd be better off
Different lives and different dreams
Calling out from underneath
Any thought'll be alright

If I could turn this car around
Only drive into the flames
All the things that we've burned down
Wonder which one will remain
Please take your time
Just do this for me

Let me be the one you run to
For the rest of your life
I'd give up everything to show you
To show you there's still time
I could be the one you run to
For the rest of your life
I'm still learning how to
Love you
You are the only one that's
Worth the fight

I wish you'd learn to let this go
Lay your troubles down on me
Give me one more chance to show
I'll be all you'll ever need
Please take your time
Just do this for me

Let me be the one you run to
For the rest of your life
I'd give up everything to show you
To show you there's still time
I could be the one you run to
For the rest of your life
I'm still learning how to love you
You are the only one that's
Worth the fight

Don't hold your heart too long

You'll find yourself alone
You've got time
We've got time

Let me be the one you run to
For the rest of your life
I'd give up everything to show you
To show you there's still time
I could be the one you run to
For the rest of your life
I'm still learning how to love you
I'm still learning how to love you

Let me be the one you run to
I could be the one you run to
Let me be the one you run to
For the rest of your life
I'm still learning how to love you
You are the only one that's
Worth the fight
