Do not bury your best intentions
Said you never would, swore you never would Follow your heart to the place where you missed it
If you only could, if only could

They all say that we've burning out
Too young to know what it's all about
I say, I say we get away
Forget this town and get away

Outside, outside looking inside
Inside you will find
Everything's easier on the other side
Everything's easier

Crawling out of the life that we built here
Fought so many times just to feel alive
All the years where they came and they left here
And we've grown so tired, never been so

They all say that we've breaking out
Too broke to know what it's all about
I say, I say we get away
Take what's left and get away

Outside, outside looking inside
Inside you will find
Everything's easier on the other side
Everything's easier

Is this what you wanted?
Is this what you're fighting for?
You're stuck in your reasons
Can't leave 'em out the door

And the city is burning
We're the only one's alive
To take all the lives we lost in [Incomprehensible]
We're leaving behind

Outside, outside looking inside
Inside you will find

Everything's easier on the other side
Everything, everything, no, no

Outside, outside looking inside
Inside you will find
Everything's easier on the other side
Everything's easier

Can't always find your way
Can't always find your way
You can't always find your way, always find our way
But we are here to love and we are love here
