Once again she's caught my attention.

This times no different from the last.

There's just something in the way she smiles.

My heart. is beating so fast.

So lets. turn off the lights.

The stars are brightest tonight. when they're. in your eyes.

My yellow greens and whites. are a little out of sight.

When sunflowers aren't around.

I never was. the kind to outdo.

Those one liner jocks and Mohawk doos.

But this time. I'm feeling like tonight. might be the night.

I break away. from all my down right. bad luck.

From the moment. that I told you.

You were everything. and everything. I would ever need.
