Here I am, all alone
Situations overwhelming again
Be strong, I tell myself
But fall right back again

But hold on
I think I just realized something

Here I am right in your hands
There I am letting you take what you can
I won't let this happen again
I'm too strong to fall again

A light of hope
Is fading more each time I breathe
Decide, right or wrong
Too many roads, a wounded soul in need

But hold on
I think I just realized something

Here I am right in your hands
There I am letting you take what you can
I won't let this happen again
No, I'm too strong to fall again

I won't fall just yet

Hold on
I think I just realized something

Here I am right in your hands
There I am letting you take what you can
I won't let this happen again
No, I'm too strong, I won't fall again

Here I am, hey, here I am
No, I won't let this happen again
Here I am, I won't fall
I'm too strong
