In this world of illusions
Nothing stays the same
In the land of confusion
The heart is not to blame
When the dreams turned to sorrow
And the hero walks away
There's a reason why he's leaving
There's a reason why you stay
When your heart is connected
The writings on the wall
You're always protected
Love will never ever stall
Call on emotions
And place them in my hands
When your heart is connected
Love will stay the same
When you walk disillusioned
Down the highway of hope
Blinded by the shadows running out of rope
So you can't make decisions you let them slip away
There's a reason why he's leaving
There's a reason why I stay
When your heart is connected
The writings on the wall
You're always protected
And love will never ever stall
Call on emotions
You place them in my hands
When your heart is connected
Love will stay the same
In this world of illusions
The hero walks away
There's a reason why he's leaving
There's a reason why you stay
When your heart is connected
The writings on the wall
You're always protected
And love will never ever stall
Call on emotions
You place them in my hands
When your heart is connected

Love will stay the same
When your heart is connected
The writings on the wall
You're always protected
Love will never ever stall
Call on emotions
You place them in my hands
Love will stay the same
