Indifference, driving out the colour
Your voice goes on and on

Rest assured I won't be good enough for you
Don't let them scare you away

Hope in our choices and secrets I can't expose
The truth is I don't understand you I never did

Indifference, driving out the colour
Your sweetness on and on

Rest assured I won't be good enough for you
Don't let them scare you away

Hope in our choices and secrets I can't expose
The truth is I don't understand you I never did

Farewell I know that the distance hurts
The truth is I don't want to notice I never did

Now changes fool no-one all we need is space to grow
So call up the right words and take the blame away
