"Safe Hands"

Home, don't set a way home,
Set up the seizure
It's remarkable,
It's a long way down
Keep the best of it,
Between yourself and the ground
Would you still want this knowing your heart will break Open doors, I should have walked away from all of your tiny lies
Goodbye to your safe hands, we're better off this way, always astray
It's just a stage that we're at,
This is all or nothing
It's a long way back from anything, anyone
Don't set a way home,
Set up the seizure
Would you still want this knowing your heart will break
Open doors, I should have walked away from all of your
tiny lies
Goodbye to your safe hands,
We're better off this way, always astray
I am far too late and I won't notice you at all
And with you, accepting everything and everyone
