Head out into the yard
I'm willing to stay now that the rain's behind us
My lips don't hurt on this one
Your face takes the place of days I have lost

I wonder what night will bring
It's funny, it seems like a memory
If you like it I will like it too
If I fake it you will make it true
This is a dare and I'm daring you
Oh this is a dare and I'm daring you

Headlights and rows of pilons
I made the mistake of not getting gone
And staying put when I could
And smelling soot instead of wood

I wonder what night will bring
It's funny, seems like a memory
If you like it I will like it too
If I fake it you will make it true
This is a dare and I'm daring you
Oh this is a dare and I'm daring you

Spending some time in my house
The outsides are rumble
I'm quiet as a mouse behind shut doors

And I wonder what night will bring
It's funny, seems like a memory
If you like it I will like it too
If I fake it you will make it true
Well this is a dare and I'm daring you
