Do you really want to control the hands of fate?
Do you really want to deny your saving grace?
Do you really want to do everything they say?
Do you really want to wear lies upon your face?

Or would you rather be beautiful in your minds eye?
Would you rather be beautiful all your lifeline long?

Do you really want to reek havoc by your bedside?
Do you really want to repeat the things you confide?
Do you really want to erode and undermine?
Do you really want to drive all of your senses out of your mind?

Understanding I could be the best thing I've ever known of
Understanding I could be anything
Every step was always vertigo
Dancing when the lights were low
That was long ago

Do you really want to endure the state you're in?
Do you really want to assume this mannequin?
Do you really want to adhere to this heroine?
Do you really want to apologize until you are forgiven?
