break down your pride and look at the view from both sides make up your mind if you're going to unwind, unwind steady the anger, steady the fear, steady the fury steady the river out to the sea steady the sunrise, no apology give up this fight it makes no difference now who's right dismantle your spite and surrender with all your might

steady the sorrow that comes over me steady the silence, no apology wait a beat because i can't see anything from where we're standing
