I had a beautiful, beautiful time
The drives and the talks were amazing
The kind of friend I thought I'd never find
You have a beautiful, beautiful smile
I had a beautiful, beautiful time
The way it curls and collapses on your lips
When you touch me I shake like a child
Cause sometimes it seems like
It's late, I'm afraid you might leave
You still don't believe me
It's so distracting
There's nothing I can do to concentrate
Always thinking of you
And I meant everything I said
So I expose and explain
And it's moments like this
When I'm laying in bed
That repeat and replay in my head
It's a beautiful, beautiful time
As you laugh and roll onto your stomach
The carpet embraces your design
My heart pounds as I lay by your side
All these feelings that flow
And I find that I am unable to hide
I'm happy when you're near
In this basement, and in this dim light
You look so beautiful
I'm unsure and unclear with the words that I say
And I wish that forever could stay
Just like today
You have beautiful, beautiful eyes
So bright and alive and enchanting
I want to be with you all of the time
It's hopeless but I have to try
