You say that you want to fly
But you mind is weak and you don't know why
And you, always wanted more than you ever got than you had wished for

Well if you could see the truth
It's all because of you
Oh, if you could try to open up your mind
Then you would see the light

But you want to Taste it, smell it, Take it, Kill it Use it till the life is gone
You want to Break it, Rape it
Try to make it into your new pet
But it couldn't hate you more

You say that the war is won That's been in your head and it's almost done Well we'll see, when you get back home
When you're on the floor and you're all alone

Well I've finally seen the truth
It's all because of you
Oh, if you could try to open up your mind
Then you would see the light

Oh, and I know it hurts, Oh, I can feel your pain Oh, I just want to love you more, Oh, I just want to love you
