[Verse 1]

I don't need whiskey to drown out the pain
Or some old umbrella to hold off the rain
Don't have to cross over a river of tears
All that i need is right here

[Chorus]

Holdin' you, holds me together
When holdin' on, gets just a little too hard
When this tight rope I travel, begins to unravel
And it feels like im falling apart
Holdin' you, holds me together

[Verse 2]

You know lifes a freight liner, on a runaway track
But I'll take the ride knowing, that you bring me back
No fate's too uncertain, no distance's too far
As long as your here in my heart

[Chorus]

Holding you, holds me together
When holding on, gets just a little too hard
When this tight rope I travel, begins to unravel
And it feels like I'm falling apart
Holding you, holds me together

[Verse 3]

Whenever I
Hold you tight
This crazy world of mine
Falls right in place
Whatever the Trouble is
You find the way to give back what it takes
Yeah

When this tight rope I travel, begins to unravel
and it feels like im falling apart
Holding you, holds me together
Holding you, holds me together
