

Gretchen Wilson

"To Tell You The Truth"

Visit "To Tell You The Truth" on MotoLyrics.com

Mornin' light come shinin' in
It don't break and it don't bend
It don't hide behind the blue
I wish I could be that true

Wakin' up's the hardest part
How could I have broke your heart?
How do I just lie in bed
Knowin' what I haven't said?

To tell you the truth would set me free
I'm livin' a lie and it's killin' me
What I really wanna do is just talk this thing through
But it hurts you to tell you the truth

It all comes up with the mornin' sun
It all comes down to the said and done
You know sometimes I pray for rain
I think somehow it hides my pain

Oh, to tell you the truth would set me free
I'm livin' a lie and it's killin' me
What I really wanna do is just talk this thing through
But it hurts you to tell you the truth

Well, tomorrow's just another day
That I won't find the words to say
When that old sun comes shinin' in
Remindin' me again

But to tell you the truth would set me free
I'm livin' a lie and it's killin' me
What I really wanna do is just talk this thing through
But it hurts you to tell you the truth

Mornin' light come shinin' in
It don't break and it don't bend

Visit Gretchen Wilson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

