When you look at me, tell me, can you see,
The last three years have been real hard on me.
But I try to keep my head up.
Sometimes I have to look up to look down.

So many people have let me down
Because money is all they want to see.
I'm really feeling far from fine
Everything just seems alright.

When I look at you I see no point of view.
You know no news is really the best news.
But I try to keep my head up.
Sometimes I have to look up to look down.

Even though I'm feeling far from fine everything will be alright,
I said it's gonna be alright, get it right now.
I'm telling you to hold on tight,
You know it's going to be alright,
You know it's going to be alright now,
Everything will be alright this time.
