It's funny how I almost threw it all away.
Something so responsible for who I am today.
But I knew I wouldn't walk away
Or leave it anyway, not on any day.

It meant so much to me
It gave me something to believe and say.
It's alright, it's no surprise,
Some things in life will never change.

Shaved head and boots,
They used to laugh at you in school.
But inside you're laughing at them,
They'll never understand, they're only fools.

Doing what you want to do,
Won't make you many friends.
Being who you want to be,
Won't make you many friends.
