Thoughts of failure
Thoughts of success
Truth denied
Secrets confessed
Emotional obsessions
Material possessions

All that have
All that have not
Take what you can get
Give me what you got
You don't really need it
You just can't live without it

You want it now
You just can't wait
You don't care how
'Til it's too late

Just a little more than all the rest
You want the latest greatest of the biggest best
To stand upon the highest
For yours to be the brightest

All that you make
All that you possess
It's a distraction
Or it's a mess
You feel there's something missing...

Thoughts of failure
Thoughts of success
Truth denied
Secrets confessed
Emotional obsessions
Material possessions

You want it now
You just can't wait
You don't care how
'Til it's too late

Just a little more than all the rest
You want the latest greatest of the biggest best
It's just a lack of patience
Instant gratification

Just a little bit of everything
As long as it is hip and fresh and happening
Your infatuation
Mass commercialization

You want it now
You just can't wait
You don't care how
'Til it's too late

Just a little more than all the rest
You want the latest greatest of the biggest best
It's just a lack of patience
Instant gratification

Find the strength inside yourself
To leave it all behind
Leave it on the shelf
Resisting the temptation
Instant gratification

Producing and consuming
Newer and improving
One of a kind and special
Shallow and superficial

Do nothing to upset it
Only if you let it
Any way that you can get it

Because you want it now...
