"Take Me Away"

I can't really tell anymore
If I'm all worth what you feel
Under the covers I lay like a stone
So cold, afraid of what's real

I follow to close to my own guilt
These words are not for you
Even though I try so hard
I can't escape from what's true

You take me away...

You've got to hold on to what you've got
The world around you crumbles and falls
Keep together what you've got
The world around you crumbles and falls

Crumbles and falls...
