Sit back and relax then take a breathe as you reflect Upon your day and all that happened
The stress to which your subjected Everyone's uncertain, we're all thinking how and we're asking why
Searching for our way in life

Searching through your way in life
Waiting till they call your number
Waiting for your turn in line

Close your eyes and reach out search the calmness in your mind
Let your thoughts drift, think of nothing
Let the tension slowly unwind
Slow down just a moment, let the traffic pass you by Racing for some room to drive

Racing through your way in life
Waiting for a space to open
Waiting for the changing light

I wish that I could walk away
I would never have to show you my feelings
I would hold deep inside what I had to say
Then I would walk away

I wish that I could walk away...

Everything that we hoped for Everyone who touched our lives
Never really making progress
Living life to just "survive"

Now it seems we've come so far so fast, but that we've never really moved

Constantly connected
Slowly picking up the pace
Showing no signs of slowing
Everyone begins to race

I wish that I could walk away
I would never have to show you my feelings
I would hold deep inside what I had to say
Then I would walk away

Then I would walk away...

To someplace where they'll never find me
Just leave it all behind me
Try to forget what went wrong
But no matter how far
I run from the terror
I find that I'm always there Running mile after mile after mile and I'm not getting anywhere...
