

Grey Holiday

"Glorious"

Visit "Glorious" on MotoLyrics.com

I fight the noise to hear the silence
But for a moment feel the breeze
I've been lost inside the madness
Of a world that's run so far away
From where we're meant to be
Where are you now?

We live among the glorious
And we've got to try and see
Give me eyes to see the glorious
The beauty that has always been
Right in front of me

Heaven knows You have done enough
You bent the stars to fit my view
You're the blanket of unending love
That's always here to cover us
Like the morning dew
I see you now

I have come to behold you
And I will never be the same
I am reaching out to touch you
So fall on me like rain

Visit Grey Holiday page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.