Pray for love
Ending up loving too much
I burned and learn
I ended up thinking too ahrd
I tried to wait
That made me impatient
Guess I can say
Nothing goes my way
I reached to the sky I came back down with empty
hands
So I can tell you now from right where I stand
I always be sitting on a corner with a broken heart
That's just me I should have known better when I looked to the sky
Should have get my head down
My head down x4

I should kept
I wasn't the only one there
I started to hear
I listen so much I got scared
... got stocked in the same conversation
Guess I can say
Nothing goes my way
I reached to the sky I came back down with empty
hands
So I can tell you now from right where I stand
I always be sitting on a corner with a broken heart
That's just me I should have known better when I
looked to the sky
Should have get my head down
My head down x4

So many stars pass me by
That I gave up on the sky
And now my question is why
Love why are you against me
What did I do to be so unhappy
I always be

Chorus

I always be sitting on a corner with a broken heart
That's just me I should have known better when I
looked to the sky
Should have get my head down
My head down x4
