All alone, hey, all alone, yeah
Can never forget that night, hey
Boy you even looked me in the eye, yeah
Tell me you love me and you would never leave
But now you are gone and I'm so lonely

So who's gotta catch me from the sky
Cause you've let my hopes build up so high
That I could fly but I didn't know
That you would take my wings from me
You let me fall so I painted your name in the sky
For the world to see
So that you know that it was you
Who let... fall alone, all alone, hey, all lone, yeah

I remember how secure I felt
Guess you just have a way with words
Cause when you spoke boy I would leave
That you will never leave, oh

So who's gotta catch me from the sky
Cause you've let my hopes build up so high
That I could fly but I didn't know
That you would take my wings from me
You let me fall so I painted your name in the sky
For the world to see
So that you know that it was you
Who let... fall alone, all alone, hey, all lone, yeah
Why'd you let me fall alone?
I just did you and you let me go
I expected this from somebody else and not you
You let me fall so I painted your name in the sky
For the world to see
So that you know that it was you
Who let... fall alone, all alone, hey, all lone, yeah
You let me fall so I painted your name in the sky
For the world to see
So that you know that it was you
Who let... fall alone, all alone, hey, all lone, yeah
