

Grinderman

"When My Love Comes Down"

Visit "When My Love Comes Down" on MotoLyrics.com

When my love comes down to meet you
When my love comes down to meet you again
When my love comes down to meet you
Yeah, when my love comes down to meet you again

Your mouth is a hologram made of spider's bones
Your finger's little soldiers drumming on their way back home
I thought I saw a thundercloud on the avenue
Lightning rattled though the streets, yeah, that little storm was you

When my love comes down to meet you
Oh, when my love comes down to meet you again

Your skin is like the falling snow, your hair is like the rising sun
Your's tongue is like a Kalashnikov or some other foreign gun

I see you standing there way down upon the street
Marching victorious with your banners of defeat

Oh, when my love comes down to meet you
Oh, when my love comes down to meet you again
Oh, when my love comes down to meet you
When my love comes down to meet you again

When my love comes down to meet you again
When my love comes down to meet you again
Oh, when my love comes down to meet you
Oh, when my love comes down to meet you again

Visit Grinderman page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.