Check yourself into the river
Check yourself into a dream
Check yourself into a hell hole
Where nobody else has been

Check yourself into a free fall
Hide away behind the scene
Check yourself into a nightmare
Where no one can hear you scream

Passerby pass me by to love you still
To love you still, to love you
Passerby pass me by to love you still
To love you still, to love you

This is something to remember
When I pass you on the street
I just hoped you would discover
It was me you're meant to meet

Don't know what started all the meltdowns
When the glasses came unstuck
Those moments still remind me
Could it be beginner's luck

Passerby pass me by to love you still
To love you still, to love you
Passerby pass me by to love you still
To love you still, to love you
[x2]

Never met like stranger ships in the night
Never found the danger, come find the light
This is not the start but this ain't the end
This is not the start but this ain't the end
Again

Passerby pass me by to love you still
To love you still, to love you
Passerby pass me by to love you still
To love you still, to love you

[x2]
