

Grinspoon "Take A Long Line"

Visit "Take A Long Line" on MotoLyrics.com

it's on

He was selling postcards from a paper stand a whiskey bottle in his withered hand he put a finger on a photo from an old magazine and saw himself in the shadow of his dream They found him with his head inside a tin-pot crown told him his feet stank and took him downtown called him agitator, spy and thief shut him up in solitary third degree take a long line x3

reel him in

He tried to appeal to the king of might he said "I'm just excercising my sacred right" the king he said "You ain't got no rights you're a madman, a traitor, get outta my sight"
take along line x3

reel him in

(guitar solo)

They found him with his head inside a tin-pot crown
told him his feet stank and took him downtown
called him agitator, spy and thief
shut him up in solitary third degree They put him aboard a well wound whirlwind pulled out his teeth and rold him to grin he gave them a smile, pulled out a bottle of wine and said "I never existed, you've been wasting your time"

take a long line x3

reel him in

take a long line x3

reel him in

take a long line

take a long line

take a long long long long line

reel him in

Visit Grinspoon page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.