What do you believe?
What do you believe?
What do you believe?

Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand
To know the truth

Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand
To know the truth

Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand
To know the truth

Livin' lavish like the biltmore what the blood split for A ship in harbor is safe, but that ain't what it's built for Do all I can to help you get more
If you forgive my slight intrusion, I see this night is confusin'
A constant fight with illusions, shed a light on conclusions

What you desire is a way out, day in and day out
Do not disturb signs so I'll stay out
How long will you let the torture grasp you I see spirits manifestin', blockin' blessings with the questions
That you hear me ask you, keep it up so much will pass you
You can make it on a prayer, yeah that's true

But barely getting by when you can do more Why would you want to Forgettin' that the wood's dry and the fire's on you

Life's a hassle be prepared to rattle
It can be rough but it don't have to

You can make it full of smiles something to laugh to
So pick and chose my message thick
So squeeze and watch it ooze
Make it a game to where your fears lose
Let's go

Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand
To know the truth

Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand
To know the truth

There's a way that seems right in the heart of a man
And many angels of light in disguise destroying man
So most chose to refuse the absolute truth
Replace it with lies use ignorance as excuse

It's hard to conceive what the mind can't comprehend
And harder to believe what the eyes can't understand
We look to theory, philosophies and thought
For a sure foundation in a belief we once sought

While the shadow of truth, cast an image so clear
The closer it gets, we reject it out of fear
If we really wanted truth, we would give our lives for it
Walk in its direction of light, for God's glory

The saga continues 'cause most hearts are deceived
If we really wanted truth, we would live and believe
So the saga continues 'cause most hearts are deceived
If we really wanted truth, we would live and believe in it

Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand
To know the truth

Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand

To know the truth

Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand
To know the truth

Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand
To know the truth

Everybody needs something as proof, something in
hand
To know the truth
Everybody needs something to see, something to feel
And something to be
