"All We Ask"

In this old house
I'm not alone
In a bedroom, a telephone You made a call and I just stood by I stripped the sheets and emptied out the sty

And the crowds that light the carnival are calling us
home,
calling us home
And all we want's another voice to lead us along,
to lead us along Lead us along

Even wasting my time with you doesn't matter if I think it through You took the car around another bend Rand it in the ground, let's pretend

And the crowds that light the carnival are calling us
home,
calling us home
And all we ask,
another voice to lead us along,
to lead us along
Lead us along

I can't get out of what I'm into with you
