I'm loving living every single day but sometimes I feel so

I hope to find a little piece of mind and I just want to know.

And who can heal those tiny broken hearts, and what are we to be.

Where is home on the milkyway of stars, I dry my eyes again.

In my Dreams I'm not so far away from home
What am I in a world so far away from home
All my life all the time so far away from home
Without you I 'll be so far away from home.

If we could make it thru the darkest Night we'd have a brighter day.

The world I see beyond your pretty eyes, makes me want to stay.

And who can heal those tiny broken hearts, and what are we to be.

Where is home on the milkyway of stars, I dry my eyes
again.

In my Dreams I'm not so far away from home
What am I in a world so far away from home
All my life all the time so far away from home
Without you I 'll be so far away from home

I count on you, no matter what they say, cause love can find it's time.

I hope to be a part of you again, baby let us shine.

And who can heal those tiny broken hearts, and what are we to be.

Where is home on the milkyway of stars, I dry my eyes
again.

In my Dreams I'm not so far away from home

What am I in a world so far away from home
All my life all the time so far away from home
Without you I 'll be so far away from home

In my Dreams I'm not so far away from home

Without you I 'll be so far away from home

What am I in a world so far away from home

All my life all the time so far away from home

Without you I 'll be so far away from home
