Never ever deep in love never had a home
Others holding hands all day while I was on my own.

Would you take my hand would you run away with me

To a destination where we can be so free.
Never ever felt this way where have you been before
I was searching all my life now you knock on my door.

Would you take my hand would you run away with me
To a destination where we can be so free.

And I can be your girl, be you girl tonight
And I can see the world I see it in your eyes.

We can be, you can be, they can be too
As long there's eternity as long as there is you.

My emotions getting strong your heartbeats close to mine
If I can be your girl tonight across your soul I sign.

Would you say my name when I'm sleeping next to you
And would you say it loud when I'm laying over you

As long as there's eternity believe me there is you.
No one does it better no one loves the way you do
Would you say my name when I'm sleeping next to you

And would you scream it loud when I'm laying over you

And I can see the world I see it in your eyes.
And I can be your girl, be you girl tonight

We can be, you can be, they can be too
As long there's eternity as long as there is you.
I wanna be your girl tonight with you right here right by my side
One thousand miles I'd run for you into infinity.

And I can be your girl, be you girl tonight
And I can see the world I see it in your eyes.

As long there's eternity as long as there is you.
We can be, you can be, they can be too

And I can be your girl, be you girl tonight
And I can see the world I see it in your eyes.

We can be, you can be, they can be too

As long there's eternity as long as there is you.
And I can be your girl, be you girl tonight

And I can see the world I see it in your eyes.
We can be, you can be, they can be too
As long there's eternity as long as there is you.
