Everybody's gotta song to sing
Won't you come now and sing with me
It doesn't really matter where you're from
Or what you've done, what you've done

Everybody's gotta story to tell
Times we've tried and times we failed
So when you feel like hope is gone
Keep holding on, this is your song

I've seen days when my life seemed hard and absurd
All of my words died 'cause they never were heard Like they left my mouth then fell to the curb Got trampled by life and every lesson I've learned

Why do good people leave this earth before their time
It hurts to see death get the best of us first Yet I know a times comin' when I will feel the breeze in my eyes
Dry my tears and fade away in the sky

I see the day my family believes God and puts away the facade
Of being okay when I know they're not
But I know You're gonna take what I write Bring this story to life for Your people tonight, come on

Everybody's gotta song to sing
Won't you come now and sing with me
It doesn't really matter where you're from
Or what you've done, what you've done

Everybody's gotta story to tell
Times we've tried and times we failed
So when you feel like hope is gone
Keep holding on, this is your song

Yo everybody has a story and it needs to be heard
So let it play and resonate from the hood to the burbs
Whether your sky is gray and you, been through it all There's somebody on this earth that is singing the same song

Some one across the Pacific is stressed from hard labor
Searching desperately 'cause he's in need of Savior
Barely ever home ignores his kids for the paper
And you'll never know this same tune's being sung by your neighbor

See age doesn't matter when life wants to fail you When your color don't determine whether you're destined for failure
We all run to the sun and hide from the rainy weather
But we make beautiful music when we all unite together and

Everybody's gotta song to sing
Won't you come now and sing with me
It doesn't really matter where you're from
Or what you've done, what you've done

Times we've tried and times we failed
So when you feel like hope is gone
Keep holding on, this is your song

I know it's been hard
To make it this far
But God knows your heart

And every need
He already sees
You got to believe
Let's live, love and learn from one another

Everybody's gotta song to sing
So won't you come now and sing with me
It doesn't really matter where you're from
Or what you've done

Everybody's gotta song to sing
Won't you come now and sing with me
When you feel like hope is gone
Keep holding on, this is your song

Everybody's gotta song to sing
Won't you come now and sing with me
It doesn't really matter where you're from
Or what you've done, what you've done

Times we've tried and times we failed

So when you feel like hope is gone
Keep holding on, this is your song

Everybody's gotta song to sing
Everybody's gotta song to sing
This is your song, yeah
