(john fiddler/overend watts)

My temperature's risin' I'm knocked off my feet I'd get a better deal right out on the street ok
You look through me like I'm made outta glass
You don't need a diamond to make that pass ok
I can tell in your eyes that you're telling me lies I don't want your love
I can tell in your eyes that you're telling me lies I don't
want your love,
Don't want your love

To hear you speak you're goin' for the prize
You're gonna cut this freak right down to size ok (ok)
You're playin' a game but you make the rules
You're in for the kill to break this fool ok (ok)
I can tell in your eyes that you're telling me lies I don't
want your love
I can tell in your eyes that you're telling me lies I don't
want your love,
Don't want your love,
Don't want your love, don't want your love
I'm just a guy who's lost his cool now
I'm just a clown who's become a fool now
I'm just a road without no cars now
I'm just a wound without a scar now

To hear you speak you're goin' for the prize
You're gonna cut this freak right down to size ok (ok)
You're playin' a game but you make the rules
You're in for the kill to break this fool ok (ok)
want your love
I can tell in your eyes that you're telling me lies I don't
want your love,
Don't want your love,
Don't want your love, don't want your love
