Jesus fucking Christ
Oh God no!

From the moment that you realize
Most of this ain't real
To the moment that you decide
Shall we go out tonight

And we'll swim from these island shores
Till there's a fear of drowning
A little fear of drowning
A little fear of drowning

I think that I can see ya
And I would teach my eyes to see ya

Oh little England, tonight I'll swim
From my favorite island shores
And how long has it been
Since you have seen so beautifully, so beautifully

All the money in the world
Won't help you now
The only way is down

But you know from way out here
There is a little fear
A little fear of drowning
A little fear of drowning
A little fear of drowning

Oh little England, tonight I'll swim
From my favorite island shores
Oh, how long has it been
Oh, how long has it been

How long has it been
Since you have seen so beautifully

Oh little England, tonight I'll swim
From my favorite island shores
Oh how long has it been

Since you have seen so beautifully
