When your dreams don't come true
But your worries are over
Once more now
When the girls have all gone
May the party is over
Once more now

When you need it 'cause you're in it
When you reach out and you get shot down
Once more now
When your dreams don't come true
Then you've forgotten what I told you
Once more now

You, my universe, nothing but a curse
Fannyann, can you give us some?
Once more now, once more now, once more now
I'm not a lonely man, I'm looking for my friend
Won't you take my hand if your heart is unbroken?
Once more now, once more now, once more now

Once more now, once more now, once more now
Once more now, once more now

And all I need is one arrow
And this is all I'm telling you
And all I need is one arrow
And this is all I'm telling you
And all I need is one arrow
And this is all I'm telling you

Every second, every day, every hour
Every month, every minute
Every scar, every burn, every star
Every turd, every coward, cannibal

Fuck 'em
