Oh come now, you can barely string two words together
now

And you think Europe's own worst spectres are coming back to haunt us all

But oh come on now

Cos we are sound, oh we are light
So let's go on into the night

And I think that you were beautifully wounded just like Francis was at the end
And I think you, you're only strangers and you're trying to protect yourselves

Cos we are sound, oh we are light
So let's go on into the night

And we can take it all
We could have it all so easily
We could take it

All now piece by piece

Come on now, oh come on, oh come on now

Cos we are sound, oh we are light
So let's go on into the night

Into the night, into the night, into the night

Cos we are sound, oh we are light
So let's go on into the night
Cos we are sound, oh we are light
So let's go on into the night
