Hey won't you cast a smile my way?
Or do i remind you of the things you used to say?
What can't you remember?
And why can't i forget?
The promises you made are now the words that you regret

(chorus)

But you can't see through your kaleidoscope eyes
The colors blind you
While this black and white world dies
You go on doing what you want to do
Until your pleasures all catch up with you

Tell me why you find the truth so hard to see
When not so long ago it was you reminding me

You think that i don't notice the pain that's in your eyes
The man that you've become
Is the man you've once despised

(chorus)

Who are you?
Where has he gone?
Where did you leave the truth you've known?
Jesus forgives, you're not alone
So take my hand i'll lead you home
You can't make it on your own
This world will leave you dry and alone
I have surrendered you into God's hands.
So i come back to Jesus Christ
Come back to Jesus once again
