I see victims suffering in this sea of sand, It's been said the sounds of the fallen echo throughout this hourglass take a look at the sands of time and see your fate before you without savior without sincerity the sands will fall like rain legacies are born through retrospect when we're stuck in this hourglass I know that I'll be fine

as long as I'm sitting here with you So I'll lay back and watch this last forever, picture a world where it's just you and me together when we're stuck in this hourglass I know that I'll be
fine
as long as I'm sitting here with you
So I'll lay back and watch this last forever, until the final grain of sand falls to the ground

It's been said this will all be ashes in time, so lets take this flame and make it last forever people taking life as just a time bomb, this ticking clock won't stop us from creating a flame that will last forever take my hand, take this weight off of my shoulders, show me how, show me how love can be endless time will play it's part but we're still young and while we build these kingdoms up from the ground as the hands on the clock tick away I will not let the years get the best of me, I am the Architect and this life is mine I dare the wretched to come and take this away, take this away from me you can't alter the ground beneath my feet.
