YOU WONT BE LONELY

Won't you open up your heart?
And let me come inside
Please let the loving start
To climb
I know you may wonder why
I've come to hold you tight
I don't want you to cry
tonight

I will take you in my arms
And sing your favorite song
As I tell you of your charms
All night long

You've been hurt over again
With all my love I say
I am holding out my hand

You won't be lonely any more
You won't be lonely any more

For so long you've been in rain
But now you're warm and dry
You've been through all the pain
Now it's blue skies

You'll be happy and secure
As long as you are mine
And as long as I am yours

You won't be lonely any more
You won't be lonely any more

You won't be lonely any more
You won't be lonely any more
You won't be lonely any more
You won't be lonely any more
