(G. Kralj)

She got lost along the way
Nowhere left to go and no one else to blame
Everything inside held dear
I want to know baby what are we doing here
She got lost along the way
Sorry things went wrong what else was he to say
Everything inside was new
And you should know baby every thought is of you
Everything will be alright and beautiful
And she deserved a little more
How can we find another
Girl don't make me try
I want to know just how it all began -- how it all began
How can we have another

Girl don't make me try
I wonder just how it all began
We got lost along the way
Even though it's gone her spirit still remains
We were young and thought that we
Could find the time for our baby
Someday I hope to see
Everything will be alright and beautiful
And she deserved a little more
How can we find another
Girl don't make me try
I want to know just how it all began -- how it all began
How can we have another
Girl don't make me try
I wonder just how it all began
The words I often hear
