Torn down, trampled on, surrounded, surrounded
Thrown out, left behind and blinded by your beauty
So if you want to believe in anything
You know that you can believe in me

'Cause you'll never find me in somebody else
No you'll never find me in somebody else
No you'll never find me in somebody else
You better believe this much is true
Let go, all alone and busted, I'm busted

Without and torn apart and hungry from desire
So if you want to believe in anything
You know you can believe in me

'Cause you'll never find me in somebody else
No you'll never find me in somebody else
No you'll never find me in somebody else
You better believe this much is true
You better believe this is true

I will not go down, I will not go down
I'll show you what you found
I'll show you what you found
I'll show you what you found

You can take everything you need from me
And you can let me be what your offered
And you will always believe in me

'Cause you'll never find me in somebody else
No you'll never find me in somebody else
No you'll never find me in somebody else
You better believe this much is true
You better believe this much is true

'Cause you'll never find me in somebody else
No you'll never find me in somebody else
No you'll never find me in somebody else
You better believe this much is true
You better believe this much is true

You better believe this much is true
