"I Lie Down"

In an old town of dancing
I was the one
In an old land of horses
I was the one
In a tropical sunset
I was the one
It brought me back.
It brought me back.

He was the one,
Out of the shame of this ones,
Who rolled this world alone.
And then the only one
And I'm alone.

Sad, sad, sad, sad, sad, please go away.
And she walks into the room and says
"lie down"

I forget the chain from, I forget the fame
I forget what raised her, some may say
I forget what made me, I forget where I am
I forget to be thinking and here on the ground
I lie down, I lie down, I lie down, I lie down.

And no one can change me
Down, I lie down, I lie down, I lie down
Where no one can reach me
And I don't have questions
For a God who's not there
And I have no aims
When I'm lyin' with them there.
I lie down, I lie down, I lie down.

And there is no one can reach me
And play with their arms
Is a real life cruelty
And is a mess from where I am
I lie down, I lie down, I lie down.
