Honey, you're a mystery to me.
I don't understand what I see in you but you still get it all.

It must be physical, is that wrong?

It must be physical.

It must be physical.

No, Baby, you don't have to ever talk.
Or ever hold my hand when we walk.
Alone didn't do you no good.
Not as much as getting physical would.

It must be physical.

It must be physical.

Oh, I need your physical love so much.
And I want your physical love to touch.
I don't need your conversation.
I'm in a physical meditation.

It must be physical.

It must be physical.

I don't need your conversation.
I'm in a physical meditation.
I need your physical love so much.
I need your physical love to touch.

Honey, you're a mystery to me.
I don't understand what I see in you but you still get it all.

It must be physical, is that wrong?

It must be physical.

It must be physical.
